

Westhill
make things happen

Westhill supports projects that change lives and build bridges between communities

Westhill believes in making things happen. We financially support educational projects with strong underlying Christian values that change people's lives, foster empathy between communities and build bridges between people of diverse backgrounds and cultures.

Westhill provides financial investment, and exhibition resources, to support imaginative, faith-motivated activities that enable ordinary people to transform their lives and the lives of their communities, as well as projects which resource and educate people to do this.

Westhill considers support for a wide range of projects, and has particular interests in activities involving formal and informal religious education, projects utilising the creative and performing arts, and projects facilitating interfaith activity.

Westhill values projects built on solid foundations, knowledge of your community or audience, clear objectives, and a viable and carefully budgeted action plan. If you are interested in finding out whether your project might be considered for financial support take a look at the information on our website and contact us with a 100-word summary outlining your plans.

More information about the projects we have supported, and our grant giving procedures, can be found on our website www.westhillendowment.org

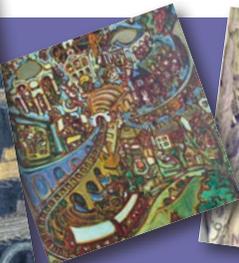

CreateTalk

Encourage Conversations
Enable Reflections
Inspire Action

In addition to financial support Westhill has a touring exhibition programme, CreateTalk, which makes art collections available on free loan throughout the UK.

These exhibitions aim to encourage conversations, enable reflections, and inspire action within your local community. A range of exhibits are available on different themes and using different forms of art.

Each exhibition has its origins in the Christian faith and has been selected with awareness of the world in which we live. Contact us to find out more.
